REC. (unc): BUY

TARGET (-1.10): C$10.90/sh

RISK RATING (unc): HIGH

The main key takeaway from today's MRE update is the level of refinement presented to us which is as critical detail for a self-build debt lender as it is for potential M&A buyers who likely rebuild these models. The exploratory and delineation drilling around the new 23 and 21A West zones generated new resources resulting in pit expansions and drove the incremental increase in the OP resource (+6% in contained ounces coming with a +4% gain on grade) and more than offset the impact of the new methodology introduced to restrict the impact of high-grade mineralization close to the mined stopes and more conservative metal recoveries. In the UG part of the resource, differences on grade/tonnes/ounces come mainly from the updated pit geometry and the positive effect after removing the 1m geotech buffer around the underground workings as now drift and fill mining method (more selective than LH) is considered, while no new resource was produced from the Eskay Deeps discovery as spacing was inadequate. While materiality is difficult to pin down, the new resource appears more refined using enhanced geological constraints that in our view provided robust "localized" estimates vs blanket globally after incorporating dynamic search ellipse and metallurgical recoveries into the block model and combined with 99% of the resource now sitting in M&I, we would expect to see perhaps a prolonged mine life, albeit not a step-change as it will come at the end of the life of mine. Updating for the recent raise in cash and shares, we maintain our BUY rating but lower out PT from C$12.00/sh to C$10.90/sh based on 0.6xNAV<sub>5%-1850</sub>. Looking ahead, the DFS update by year end is the main catalyst to provide more torque to Skeena's share, alongside with early construction works and progress on permitting and financing fronts. Material updates on permitting / detailed engineering and financing are perhaps more material now given the permitting roadmap (EA certificate by 2H24, final permits to be issued in 1H25) was recently published in 1Q23.

Updated MRE sees incremental ounce growth; 99% of Global Resource in M&I ahead of 4Q23 DFS

Skeena published an updated MRE for its Eskay Creek project in BC, incorporating an additional 278 drill holes (67,885m) and updated metallurgical process recoveries for Au (84%) and Ag (88%) compared to previous 90% and 80% recoveries respectively. The updated OP resource now stands at 5,631koz @ 3.5g/t AuEq (74% Au / 26% Ag) at a 0.7g/t AuEq cut-off grade (same as 1Q22 MRE) and UG resource at 393koz @ 5.9g/t (78% Au/ 22% Ag) at a 3.2g/t AuEq cut-off (vs 2.8g/t in 1Q22 MRE), bringing the global resource at 6,024koz @ 3.6g/t, with 99% of it in the M&I category.

Changes in resource modelling: The updated MRE applies the following changes:

- 1) regular block size of 5m x 5m x 2.5m (vs 10m x 10m x 5m in 1Q22 MRE) to better inform economic analyses that will include more selective mining techniques (10m benches split with 3 dig flitches per bench + smaller backhoe excavators) that will be incorporated into the updated DFS by year end;

- 2) 15g/t AuEq cut-off grade shells (vs 1m buffer enveloping the UG stopes previously) modelled in the orientation of contact mudstone to restrict the influence of the extremely high-grade mineralized material;
- 3) Dynamic anisotropy is applied to the search ellipse (vs single-search previously) to conform to the geology, using the contact mudstone as guide.

Raise: On May 24, Skeena closed a C$73.5m raise (10m shares @ C$7.35/sh).

Why we like Skeena

1. Large high-grade open pit with SCPe >500koz upside potential in coming 12-18M
2. Shift in market dynamics allows concentrate sales for lower capex
3. Optionality from high-grade Snip mine nearby to blend concentrate or add ounces
4. Catalyst heavy with drilling, metallurgy, and DFS optimizations in coming 12M

Catalysts

1. 2023: Permitting updates
2. 4Q23: Updated DFS
3. CY26: SCPe first production
